The History

Rosily Vineyard is named after Vice-Admiral Count François-Étienne de Rosily-Mesros (1748-1832), a French Navigator and Cartographer, who was intimately involved in the ongoing French explorations of Western Australia during the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

Rosily was an ensign on the 'Gros Ventre' commanded by Louis de St. Alouarn in 1772.

The 'Gros Ventre' chartered the south west coast of Australia at Cape Leeuwin, where Rosily made the first, but very accurate survey of (what now is) Flinders Bay. They then sailed north to Dirk Hartog Island producing an accurate chart of Shark Bay.

In the early 1990's a party using Rosily's survey found the location on Dirk Hartog Island where the 1772 party had buried two bottles with charts that were sealed with a silver French coin.
